EXTENSION HAS SHIPMENT OF 1 1/2 TONS OF BULLION

The Tonopah Extension shipped 26 bars of silver bullion this morning to the Selby smelter, through the medium of the Wells Fargo company. The shipment weighed 3269 pounds, or a trifle over 1 1/2 tons and has an estimated value of $36,000. The shipment of bullion is slightly over the average in weight and value showing mine conditions at the Extension to be improving.

A store that advertises must be a store of values of "bargains"—or the advertising would not pay.

LAST OF THE PONY EXPRESS RIDERS DEAD

LOUIS DEAN, PIONEER OF NEVADA SUCCEUMBS IN CALIFORNIA CITY.

The adventurous life of Louis Dean, says the Reno Journal, who died in San Francisco at the age of 76, formed the subject of an interesting story in the San Francisco Chronicle of last Sunday. Louis Dean built the Dean building on Center street across from the Golden hotel, and he at one time owned large holdings of real estate in the business section.

According to Mrs. Dean her husband was the last of the pony express riders who furnished all the transportation on the Overland trail until the railroad went over the Sierra. He joined the express service at the age of 24 when it was organized in 1860. He had many thrilling experiences with Indians. He was in Reno May 16, 1868, when the Central Pacific auctioned off the lots of the town, and he bought then two parcels land on Virginia street, which later sold for $100 a front foot. He was a friend of Samuel L. Clemens and of Judge C. C. Goodwin. In 1884 he bought out the Ward brothers' cattle outfit which embraced thousands of acres from Pyramid lake to the Oregon line.

One of Mr. Dean's experiences was the horsewhipping of a Platte Indian chief who came to drive off cattle at the old Stone and Gates' crossing four miles below the present location of Reno.

Mr. Dean moved to Petaluma several years ago and he died two weeks ago of Bright's disease in San Francisco.

WEATHER MAN HAS PREDICTIONS OF PAST MONTH

TOTAL OF 15 CLEAR DAYS SHOWS THAT CONDITIONS WERE NOT REALLY BAD.

With 81 percent of sunshine reported for the month of March, the fact is brought to mind that the past month was not so disagreeable, although there appeared days which were far from pleasant. The monthly report of weather conditions, as prepared by J. C. Piercy, the local government observer, shows that the mean temperature for the month was 38.5 degrees. The highest temperature recorded was 69 degrees on March 31, while the lowest point was 14 degrees on the 13th.

The precipitation was .32 inches and the snowfall totaled four inches. The wind traveled 7006 miles with west as the prevailing direction and with an average hourly velocity of 9.4 miles. The clear days numbered 15 with a total of 16 partly cloudy.
